McCabe was tried at Valparaiso and the jury found him guilty of the murder of the woman. McCabe was sentenced to a term of years in the state penitentiary. McCabe is still in the county jail at Valparaiso.

KILLED BY FOUL WHILE WATCHING AMATEUR GAME

A foul ball hit by a player in a game between two Sunday school classes yesterday broke the neck of John Barich, 25, of 2634 Meade avenue, a spectator. He died last night in the Keystone hospital.

Barich was employed as a sheet metal worker by the Yellow Coach Manufacturing company and was returning from his day's work when he saw the amateur ball game played at Fullerton and Long avenues. He stopped to watch the game.

Little more than a minute later the foul ball, hit high, dropped into the little knot of spectators.

PLANE WRITES RADIO HISTORY BY NOVEL FEAT

Radio history was written at Great Lakes yesterday when a message was flashed on a newly invented outfit from a navy airplane flying over the lake to Prof. C. M. Jansky in the department of electrical engineering at the University of Minnesota, who replied to it.

Officers in charge of the experiment said it was the first time such a message has been sent on an outfit which works without a generator and simply on dry batteries.

They pointed out that this is extremely important to the army and navy since with the old form of machine messages might be sent only while the plane was in the air and while its propeller furnished the power for a generator.

Can Send Message from Ground.

The importance of the new outfit lies, they added, in the fact that an operator may now send messages when the ship is on the ground as in case of forced landing or other mishaps.

Immediately after the test Lieut. Commander E. F. McDonald Jr., who had a hand in perfecting and building the new instrument, announced that he will take such an outfit with him when he goes in June on the Polar expedition into the Arctic regions with Donald MacMillan, the famous explorer.

The low wave length of 37 meters will be extremely useful and attain great distances for us in the Arctic regions, Commander McDonald said.

"We will go as far into the north as possible by boat and then rig up a plane and fly 150 miles farther on. With this new outfit we can flash back messages constantly, both while in the air and when on the ground."

Important for Mihaeas.

"In the event of a mishap such as a forced landing or something in our plans going out of commission, this new outfit would enable us to S. O. S. and bring relief to us."

The navy plane containing the new outfit, which it is stated, weighs only about 100 pounds, went aloft in the middle of the afternoon with Navy Pilot J. W. Green at the stick. A Marconi code message was sent, picked up and replied to by Prof. Jansky. Messages later were received saying that it had been picked up by a number of stations.

MRS. ZALIMAS HOPES YET TO DODGE PRISON

There was in the county jail yesterday one woman who was more surprised than anything else, Mrs. Bernice Zalimas, who on Saturday had been found guilty of the murder of her husband and sentenced to fourteen years imprisonment. Mrs. Zalimas could hardly believe it, she said. She never had any idea the jury would do such a thing.

"I've been a good hard-working girl since I came here from Lithuania fifteen years ago," the ultra blonde, buxom, 34 year old comely widow declared.

"I loved my husband and I always thought so much of the laws of this country, but now I can't love my husband or my country."

"I was the one who asked for a post-mortem on my husband's body. There were people who talked and who said my husband shouldn't have died so soon. Rather than have them pointing their fingers at me I went to the undertaker and told him I wanted an examination. Then the coroner's doctor, Forges, said there was arsenic in him."

Could Have Fled, She Says.

"He was a car trimmer and he was studying to be a doctor. He called himself a naturopath and treated people for their sicknesses. He was always drinking herb medicines he prepared. If I had killed him I had two weeks to get away and they never would have got me, but I didn't. I am sure my lawyer, Eugene L. McGarry, will get me out yet."

SLAYS MAN AND ASKS POLICEMAN TO ARREST HIM

Patrick Gallagher, 45 years old, was shot to death last night by George Casin, 42 years old. Both lived in the box car colony of Illinois Central laborers at Twenty-sixth street and the railroad tracks where the shooting took place.

Casin, after firing two bullets into Gallagher's body as the latter was bathing in one of the box cars, ran to Eighteenth street and Michigan avenue, where he surrendered to South Park policeman William Dickey.

MEXICAN GIRL ADMITS INTENT TO KILL CALLES

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.] Mexico City, May 10.—"I am Joan of Arc, called by divine providence to restore Mexico to the bosom of the church," said Maria Luisa Jaurugui, charged with planning the assassination of President Calles last night. Pale and slender, the girl of 25, of a rather distinguished appearance, as though of the better class of society, declared in the presence of President Calles:

"I intended to kill the president and rescue from the schismatic Soledad church and the sacred image of Our Lady of Soledad. I did not want to kill him, but it was the only way out."

SEIZE ROBBERS FEW MINUTES AFTER HOLDUP

Fifteen minutes after three gunmen had held up the butcher shop of Sam Michronis, 1800 West 18th street, they were under arrest last night. One of them is an ex-convict.

Michronis lost $78 to the robbers and a clerk gave up $13. Then the holdup men ran out and drove away in a waiting car.

A few minutes later Sergt. Dillon and Donahue of the Warren avenue station sighted the machine at Madison street and Western avenue. They chased the vehicle for several blocks, firing as they went, until they forced it to the curb at Oakley boulevard.

Joseph Duello, 29, of 1846 Warren avenue, the former convict, and James Burns, 21, of 24 North Elizabeth street, and Wallace Buckner, 21, of 2751 Fulton street, were placed under arrest. Michronis identified them.

BAPTIST CLOSES PANAMA MAILS TO BOOZE ADS

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.] BALBOA, Panama, May 10.—Mr. Carter, stenographer in the canal government office and a Baptist churchman, questioned the right of the canal postoffice to carry Panama newspapers with liquor advertisements.

The district attorney decided today that all papers setting second class rates must from tomorrow delete such advertisements. This places the Canal Zone under the 1923 prohibition law. The canal director of posts issued orders accordingly this afternoon.

Norway Still Keeps Hope of Finding Lost Vikings

OSLO, May 10.—[United News.]—The Norwegian foreign office has wired its consul general in Montreal to request shipping companies sending vessels north this spring, especially if they are bound for the neighborhood of Baffin bay, to search for the lost Liefricksen and its crew, which included the American yachtsman, Nutting.

Warns Wife Against Pistol, Then Shoots Self in Side

"Don't play with pistols. Even with the safety clip on, they're dangerous," August Del Monico, 59 years old, 1420 Spruce street, told his wife of two weeks, Catherine, yesterday afternoon. Then he playfully pulled the trigger, wounding himself in the right side. Mrs. Del Monico had been examining the weapon when her husband took it away from her.

Why Advertising Is Business Insurance!

Manufacturing capacity in this country has never been as high as it is now. This is fixed investment; most of it cannot be made over or liquidated. It is worth par only when it works and makes money.

But a plant can operate only when its output can be sold. Manufacturing and earning thus depend upon markets. Which is the reason why financial minds are studying sales and merchandising methods that make markets dependable. Advertising which reaches the public and influences buying is, therefore, directly related to earnings on factory investments.

In our book, FOUR SQUARE ADVERTISING (sent free to business executives), we explain why it requires experience to get maximum results from advertising, and to safeguard every advertising move. And it is a remarkable fact that such advertising experience and the excellence it develops cost no more than modicums.

FOG GIVES N. Y. RUM BLOCKADE FIRST BIG TEST

Booze Flotilla Stands Under Its Cover

New York, May 10.—[Special.] The coast guard blockading fleet its first big test tonight when a fog fog grew denser and the ships row moved in, apparently for a rush of liquor to the shore.

rum vessels were sighted seven miles south of Sandy Hook by pilots in a boat in the gray curtain.

Coast guard officers at Base 1, Stapleton, predicted that the booze chance for operations has arrived. Since last Tuesday, when federal ships began to patrol fifty miles between the row and the weather has been all against liquor craft.

Alert Signal Wireless.

Rough seas by day, which made impossible for the speedy rum runners to stand alongside schooner steamers, and an ocean flooded with moonlight helped immensely the cause of the blockade. But tonight sea is calm, and the eyes of the rum runners will take all his chances," said Capt. John I. Egan, in charge of the Staten Island blockade. Capt. Bryan and officers, however, were confident the precautions of the federal would be increased and that an attempt to slip through the blockade would find a with guns ready for action, at least.

"Mother" Ships Move In.

The arrival of the "mother" of the rum fleet was reported by Hook pilots who landed at Staten at 4 o'clock this afternoon. The went out with ocean steamships eight hours previous and when went out no rum ships were sighted. Coming back, however, eight vessels were observed hovering of the Hook.

The pilots made out three steamships among the cluster of vessels. The remainder of the flotilla appeared composed of two masted schooner heavily rigged and of British registered.

FOG GIVES N. Y. RUM BLOCKADE FIRST BIG TEST

Booze Flotilla Stands In Under Its Cover.

New York, May 10.—[Special].—The coast guard blockading fleet faced its first big test tonight when an all-day fog grew denser and the ships of the row moved in, apparently ready for a rush of liquor to the shore. Eight rum vessels were sighted seven miles south of Sandy Hook by pilots through a break in the gray curtain.

Coast guard officers at Base No. 2, Stapleton, predicted that the bootleggers' chance for operations had arrived. Since last Tuesday, when the federal ships began to patrol fifty miles of line between the row and the shore, the weather has been all against the latter craft.

Alert Signal Wirelessly.

Booze seas by day, which made it impossible for the speedy rum runners to stand alongside schooners or steamers, and an ocean flooded with moonlight helped immensely the success of the blockade. But tonight the sea is calm, and the eyes of the patrolling fleet are blinded by the fog. Reports filtered through from the blockaders, but the wireless carried out to them cautions to be doubly alert.

"This is the kind of weather in which the rum runners will take all kinds of chances," said Capt. John I. Bryan, in charge of the Staten Island base of the blockaders. Capt. Bryan and other officers, however, were confident that the precautions of the federal ships would be increased and that any vessel attempting to slip through the sheltering mist would find a patrol with guns ready for action, afloat its path.

"Mother" Ships Move In.

The arrival of the "mother" ships of the rum fleet was reported by Sandy Hook pilots who landed at Stapleton at 4 o'clock this afternoon. The pilots went out with ocean steamships forty-eight hours previous and when they went out no rum ships were sighted. Coming back, however, eight or ten vessels were observed hovering south of the Hook.

The pilots made out three steamships among the cluster of vessels. The remainder of the flotilla appeared to be composed of two masted schooners, heavily rigged and of British registry.

CAVALRY CHARGE TO GIVE THRILL AT ARMY SHOW

Cavalry and artillery will charge against each other in the military show which opens Friday, May 22, in the Grant Park stadium. It is the first time, according to officers of the sixth corps area, that such a charge ever has been staged outside the field of battle.

The actors in the charge will be Troop A of the 14th cavalry, Capt. David H. Blacklock commanding, and Battery B, 14th Field Artillery, Capt. A. E. Wade commanding. All are stationed at Ft. Sheridan.

There are many other acts on the program, but few are longer than fifteen minutes.

"Our main idea in framing the program was to make each act short and snappy, with no let up in action," says Col. T. A. Siqueland of the 6th cavalry division, commanding of the show. "We believe it will be the greatest exhibition ever held in any part of the country, for there will be assembled in the stadium the best units of the army forces, including a number of airplanes and blimps. These last will take part in a spectacular air battle."

U. S. WANTS TO KNOW HOW IT CAN COLLECT BILL FROM RUM BOAT

Washington, D. C., May 10.—[A. P.]—The "manifest" questions, which Surgeon General Culling of the public health service must decide now include the problem of collecting hospital fees from a rum running boat.

A wounded member of one of these crews was taken recently to the Vineyard Haven hospital by a coast guard patrol. The American government gives free service in this hospital to all American seamen, but requires fees from foreigners, and the wounded seaman was not an American. So the surgeon general said today he was puzzled as to how he could collect a fee from a ship that apparently has no intention of entering any American port.

TRIAL OF EX-GOV. DAVIS OF KANSAS TO START TODAY

Topeka, Kas., May 10.—[A. P.]—Selection of a jury to try Jonathan M. Davis, former governor, on a charge of soliciting a bribe for a pardon for Walter Grundy, convicted bank president of Hutchinson, Kas., will begin here tomorrow morning in District court. Defense and prosecuting attorneys agreed tonight that testing of prospective jurors will require a day or two.

Although the name of Carl J. Peterson, former bank commissioner, appears with that of former Gov. Davis on the warrants, Peterson will not be tried until later.

Mr. Davis today was the guest of his chief counsel, A. M. Harvey, at the lawyer's cabin on a river near Topeka.

GRAND FLEET AT ANCHOR AT MAUI AFTER PRACTICE

With United States Fleet at Anchor Off Lahaina, Island of Maui, May 10.—[A. P.]—The Grand Fleet swung to and fro in the open roadsteads of Lahaina today after completing two days of complicated maneuvers with the largest naval concentration assembled since the war. Arriving yesterday afternoon the ships received a welcome from the residents of Maui.

It is possible to grant liberty to only 2,400 of the 40,000 enlisted men daily, the rest of the crews remaining aboard to do minor repairing and overhauling necessitated by the "battle" of Oahu and the present maneuvers.

The main body of the fleet managed to evade searching destroyer squadrons during a four hour torpedo defense drill Friday night. Yesterday morning the cavalcade of approximately 150 vessels performed a complete maneuver known as "inverting the fleet." This maneuver completely reversed the order of the component units. Shortly before reaching Maui the aircraft tender Langley successfully launched several planes from her deck.

CHARLES F. GREY, PIONEER, DIES AT AGE OF 96

One of the pioneers of Chicago and Evanston, Charles Frederick Grey, 96 years old, died last night in his home at 1508 Forest avenue, Evanston, after an illness of a few days.

Mr. Grey came to Chicago 76 years ago from Buffalo, N. Y. He engaged in the hide and leather business, organized the Hide and Leather National bank, and was prominent in financial circles until a few years ago when he retired. In late years, he became noted for his philanthropies. He presented the University of Chicago with property worth $100,000 and presented Evanston with the park at Ridge avenue and Main street.

In 1885, Mr. Grey married the young school teacher who taught in a little school house at Madison and Dearborn streets. She was Miss Anna Graves. Their marriage lasted for nearly 70 years until her death two years ago.

In 1886 the Greys moved to Evanston to occupy the same home where Mr. Grey died last night.

He is survived by a son, Howard G. Grey, real estate manager, and a daughter, Mrs. Ethel G. Scott, wife of one of the members of Carson Pirie Scott & Co.

QUEZON PAINTS PHILIPPINES AS PAWN IN BIG WAR

Urges Independence to Protect Islands.

BY FLOYD GIBBONS.

(Copyright 1925 by The Chicago Tribune.)
MANILA, P. I., May 10.—"War in the Pacific is certain."

This is the belief of the most powerful political leader in the Philippine Islands.

Manuel L. Quezon, president of the Philippine senate, is the most outspoken advocate of Philippine independence.

The certainty of the Pacific conflict is one of Mr. Quezon's reasons for wanting America to pull down the flag and get out of the islands.

He is sure of it. He is certain there can be no war in the Pacific without America being in it. In such an event, he believes, the Philippines, being under the flag of a belligerent, would suffer. He says he is sure of it.

"The first reason for Philippine independence," he began as he draped one leg over the arm of the large, swivel chair in which he was sitting, "is the natural aspiration of a people to be free. This aspiration is supported by all Filipinos, with the exception of a very few who have misgivings about our international security and our national economic life."

"The second reason is one of safety. War in the Pacific is certain and America will be in any war in the Pacific. The position of these islands, independent, would be safer than under the flag of a belligerent. As long as the Philippines are under the American flag, Japan will not feel at ease. Japan will feel that the continued possession of these islands by America will amount almost to an act of aggression by the United States against Japan."

"In case of a Japanese-American war, the first country to be attacked would be the Philippines. If the Philippines were absolutely independent and alone, they would not be a menace to Japan and would not provoke an act of aggression from Japan, because of our very weakness. Wars are fought because nations fear the growth of others. An economic or commercial rival, the Philippines, independent, could not be an economic or commercial rival to any one therefore she would be a menace to no one."

"Europe Against Seizure by Japan."

"On the other hand the weakness of an independent Philippines would not be an invitation to aggression for several reasons. First if the Philippines become a prize, without protection or the benefits of a neutrality agreement, England would not permit Japan to take the islands because Japan holding them would be a menace to India and Hongkong and Australia. France would oppose such an act of account of her holdings in Indo-China and the United States of America would oppose it also because it would be a menace to Guam."

"The United States would have no particular strategic reason against Japan taking the Philippines whereas England would, but it would be to the interests of the United States not to let Japan get too strong. It would be to the interests of the United States to keep the Japanese out of the Philippines. Also sentiment would make you protect us."

"The senate president drove the statement home with a meaning look which indicated that he has studied American sentiment and sentimentality. As he spoke it seemed to me that the very point he made thereby in support of a plan for American withdrawal, was the strongest one possible in favor of American retention of the islands. Why get out of it means having to come back and force somebody else out, is a question worth deep consideration."

Even Violent World War.

"But whether the United States would care to come to the aid of an independent Philippines, or not, England and France surely would to protect their own position." Mr. Quezon continued although the added remark seemed to contradict the speaker's expressed conviction that there could be no war in the Pacific without America being in it.

"There is no reason to believe that the east and the west" continued Mr. Quezon. "Such a war might well split Europe again as in the last war or maybe it might be between the white powers of Europe and the new world. Ninety nine per cent of all Englishmen and Americans will laugh at this opinion, but it is not impossible that the war will be in the Atlantic as well as in the Pacific and will be between England and America."

"History of the last 500 years shows that England has fought every nation that challenges her supremacy and the United States today is the only nation that challenges England's supremacy. The theory that war between England and America is impossible on account of the kindred ties of race language and political ideas, both being democratic countries, is poorly founded. While these ties would be strong factors toward the prevention of such a war, if the time ever comes when the commercial efforts of both countries conflict, then all other reasons will disappear. Commerce today is the one reason and cause of all war."

ORIENTAL RUGS

During this sale you can buy the finest Oriental Rugs at much less than ordinary retail prices because our importations planned for two stores are coming in so rapidly that we haven't room for them.

You know, of course, that we have leased the adjoining store to the south, but the remodeling cannot be completed for several weeks.

We must either sell a large number of these new rugs at once or put them in storage—we've decided to sell them as quickly as they arrive. These prices are bound to do it.

ARREST BAN AND WOMAN HOTEL RET

Seized After Race
Wife's Detective

For forty miles late Saturday Mrs. Charles H. Egan, who is 35 years old and vice president of the Pullman Trust and Savings Bank, was seized by police after a race track. She was arrested by her wife's detective.

At 3:30 o'clock yesterday Mrs. Charles H. Egan, who is 35 years old and vice president of the Pullman Trust and Savings Bank, was seized by police after a race track. She was arrested by her wife's detective.

Only as he faced his wife in the pajamas did Egan realize the detectives had won the chase. He was standing in the lobby of the Woodmont Hotel at Joliet, where he had been hiding.

"Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Egan are estranged," Egan said for divorce two years ago and the case has been pending ever since.

"I'll certainly get my divorce," Egan said, "but I don't want to be a bank official and his wife's police station."

Cash bail was refused by Egan and Egan's wife. Egan was forced to spend the rest of the night in the hotel.

Egan was driving with his wife late Saturday when he realized he was being followed by a touring car. He straightened his aimless course and headed for the hotel.

For mile after mile the would not be shaken off. Egan said, Egan shot a road track, escaping death and believed that he had eluded the who had to wait for a long train.

But in reality they had within a few miles and Mrs. Egan was reached. When his car in a garage near the continued and were waiting lobby when the banker and his man's daughter entered.

Wife Rushes to Hotel. Mrs. Egan was phoned and attorney, State Senator Deane, she hurried to Joliet and a warrant charging the disorderly conduct.

Then, with the state constable following, she Egan's room and rapped on the bank official, robed on pajamas, answered and was arrested.

ARREST BANKER AND WOMAN IN HOTEL RETREAT

Seized After Race with Wife's Detectives.

For forty miles late Saturday night a Pullman bank official, a young woman companion huddled by his side, raced off private detectives employed by his wife. Joliet reached and the detectives apparently not in sight, the banker and the girl registered at a hotel.

At 2:30 o'clock yesterday morning Mrs. Charles R. Egan, whose husband is 35 years old and vice president of the Pullman Trust and Savings bank, arrived and had Egan and the girl, Miss Mary Talty, arrested. Miss Talty is the daughter of a Chicago policeman.

Detectives Win Race.
Only as he faced his enraged wife in his pajamas did Egan realize that the detectives had won the race and were standing in the lobby of the Woodruff Inn at Joliet, while he registered "Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Kentner." The Egan case is pending in court over since.

"I'll certainly get my divorce now," was her only comment as she watched the bank official and his sweetheart face the booking sergeant in a Joliet police station.

Cash bail was refused by the officials and Egan and Miss Talty were forced to spend the rest of the night and half of yesterday in cells until real estate bonds could be arranged.

Narrow Escape at Crossing.
Egan was driving with Miss Talty late Saturday when he realized that he was being followed by several men in a touring car. He straightened out his aimless course and headed toward Joliet.

For miles after mile the rear car would not be shaken off. Then, the detectives said, Egan shot across railroad tracks, escaping death by inches, and believed that he had lost the deaths who had to await the passing of a long train.

But in reality they had caught up within a few miles and hung on until Joliet was reached. When he parked his car in a garage near the inn they continued and were waiting in the lobby when the banker and the policeman's daughter entered.

Wife Rushes to Hotel.
Mrs. Egan was phoned and with her attorney, State Senator Daniel Webster, she hurried to Joliet and got out a warrant charging the couple with disorderly conduct.

Then, with the state senator and policemen following, she went to Egan's room and rapped on the door. The bank official, robed only in his pajamas, answered and was placed under arrest.

MOORS STUBBORN

The arrows on this map show the scenes of fighting in Morocco, where rebel Riffian tribesmen under Abdel-Krim threaten to force the French to throw a large number of soldiers into a long campaign.

Famed Marillo Painting to Be Shown in Chicago

Murillo's "Immaculate Conception with the Mirror," one of the most famous religious paintings, will be lent to the Chicago Art Institute by its owner, Dr. W. H. Hutchings of Los Angeles. Robert A. Harsh, director of the institute, announced yesterday.

The painting is said to have been executed about 1675. It first hung in the convent of the Carmelite Barefoot nuns at Madrid. There it remained until the French armies invaded Spain during the Napoleonic era. In 1807 it was taken to Paris where an Englishman, Sir Thomas Baring, bought it in 1811.

The picture remained in the Baring family until 1919 when Lord Northbrook, present head of the Baring line, sold it to Mr. Hutchings.

VITALIZERS

On account of their unknown nature, vitamins may be likened to electricity.

Like electricity, too, they may be used even if we do not know what they are.

Two things are certain: man cannot live very long without these mysterious vitalizers.

And they may be found in abundance in such wholesome dishes as fruit salads.

On the menu at CHILDS, all items in which vitamins are present are indicated by the letter "V."

FRANCE TO NEED 100,000 TROOPS TO REPEL MOORS

PARIS, May 10.—(A. P.)—Options expressed unofficially in war office circles is that Marshal Lyautey, governor general of French Morocco, will need 100,000 men to suppress the rebellious move of Abdel-Krim and complete the pacification of Morocco. It may require a campaign of several months to defeat the tribesmen.

Ten days have elapsed since Abdel-Krim, head of the tribesmen, invaded French territory in Morocco, and judging from the reinforcements which have been poured into the zone of action daily from France and Algeria, the activities of Marshal Lyautey now must be close to 70,000 men.

Unable to Oust Moors.

During these ten days the French troops have been unable to expel the Riffians from French territory, and some of the French posts still are besieged. They are being repositioned by airplane.

It is expected another ten days will pass before the French counter offensive develops. Military circles here even that the officers leading the tribesmen in the field are maneuvering like veterans and that they evidently acquired their experience on the European battle-fronts in the world war.

Gen. Nissel, inspector general of aerostatics, arrived in Rabat today and immediately went into conference with Marshal Lyautey. Dispatches from Rabat say that reinforcements are arriving normally.

French airplane scouts report "important concentrations of the enemy in positions strongly entrenched."

A pitched battle along a front of sixty miles will start as soon as the French feel they have sufficiently strong reserves.

Reinforcements Arriving.

RABAT, French Morocco, May 10.—(A. P.)—The official communication issued today by French headquarters concerning attacks of the tribesmen against the French forces says:

"The situation is unchanged along the northern front, where Gen. Colombat is proceeding with the concentration of the reinforcements which are reaching him. Col. Freydenberg's troops have succeeded in repositioning the posts at Almedousa and Astar."

"In the sector in which Col. Gambay is in charge our troops continue to patrol the regions of Kafia and Moudia. Troops of all arms arriving from France and Algeria are being grouped on various parts of the front under instructions from the command 'in chief.'"

SLAY FOLLOWING GUARREL.
"Samuel Brown, 24 years old, colored, 350 Townsend street, was shot to death last night by an unknown colored man who carried the police believe the slayer was a man with whom Brown is known to have quarreled Sunday night."

ASKS CAB DRIVER TO WAIT WHILE HE STEALS FARE

Finding himself several dollars short in payment on a taxicab bill last night, James Shanklin, 34, colored, told the cab driver to wait while he robbed a store and got the money. The chauffeur, E. L. Fry, 1130 North La Salle street, called the police instead.

Shanklin hired the cab at 37th and State streets. After riding about a mile, the Negro stopped the cab at Columbus avenue and Sheridan road.

"I haven't got enough money for you. Wait a moment while I break open a store," Shanklin told Fry, taking a screwdriver from his pocket. He led the chauffeur to the rear of the Sheridan restaurant at 6751 Sheridan road, and proceeded to start opening a window.

"I'll get a crowbar and you can do it better," suggested Fry. He left and came back with a policeman, who arrested Shanklin.

CALLS CONTROL OF ITS RAILWAYS WEST'S BIG NEED

Hampered by Ownership in East, Expert Says.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

A radical change is needed in the ownership and directorship of western railroads, according to P. J. Lisman of New York. Investment and transportation expert who is in Chicago after a survey of the northwest field. Fifty per cent of the stock of western roads is owned in the east, he points out, and the active directors are mostly in the east.

"They are out of touch with changing conditions in the territory adjacent to their railroads," he says, "and because these changes a year or two later only when they are reflected in the declining earnings of their companies which would show in the monthly or annual reports."

Acute Condition in Northwest.

"The railroad situation in the northwest is particularly acute. The seven roads entering in the Twin Cities are having insufficient earnings. Two of the lines the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul and the Minneapolis and St. Louis, are in the hands of receivers. The Soo road, which formerly paid good dividends, has ceased to pay any return to stockholders, and the two Illinois and two northwestern lines have reduced their dividends. The Chicago Great Western has paid no dividends for years."

"The remedies are: 'A slightly higher rate structure. 'The abandonment of possibly as much as a quarter of the branch line mileage, which has become nonproductive, owing to the loss of passenger and short haul freight business. 'The infusion of young and more progressive blood into the management of a number of lines."

Looks Ahead Ten Years.

Looking ahead a decade in the transportation situation, Mr. Lisman said: "There is not only the matter of consolidation but also the adjustment of motor transport of passengers and freight. It is my own belief that we are likely to see store door delivery of freight all over the United States within the next ten years and that many of the branch lines will handle their passenger business in motor cars, and that elsewhere will operate busses on the highways parallel to their rails, on regular schedules, to supplement their own train service."

JAIL FERNEKES; UNABLE TO GET HIS CONFESSION

After three weeks of continuous efforts to obtain a confession from Henry Fernakes, midge bandit, charged with five murders, Chief of Detectives Schoemaker yesterday decided that Fernakes' attitude of indifference could not be broken down. The bandit will be placed in the county jail today to await trial on a charge of murdering a south side cashier.

At a conference between Chief Schoemaker, District Attorney Lebow of Pearl River and State's Attorney Crowe it was decided that Fernakes would not be allowed to go east to stand trial on the murder charges there until he had answered to all the charges pending against him in Chicago.

Family Rows Lead Man to Kill Wife, Shoot Self

Atlanta, Ga., May 10.—In the presence of a throng of shoppers, Charles S. Benton shot and killed his wife in a grocery store here and turned the revolver on himself, inflicting wounds from which he is expected to die. The shooting was due to family rows.

FIELD DAY FOR FIRE PENSION FUND IS URGED

Naming of a committee of attorneys to pass on pension applications, elimination of almost all steam operating engineers and assistants and the annual staging of a pension fund field day were fire department recommendations announced yesterday by Fire Commissioner Joseph P. Conners.

The Chicago Bar association, Mayor Dwyer and other officials concur, will be asked to appoint an advisory board of review to act on cases of pension applications when difficulties in proper solution of them arise, under Commissioner Conners' plan. "It is recommended," the statement continues regarding the engineers, "that appropriations in the future be made for the number of qualified engineers on the pay roll, to be automatically reduced each year by not filling vacancies."

This recommendation, it was explained, was to eliminate the practice of bringing in licensed engineers and paying them more than firemen on the job many years are getting.

Chinese and Anatolian Oriental Rugs

—the best moderately priced room-size Oriental Rugs

It is often difficult to find moderately priced Oriental Rugs of "room sizes" that are thoroughly dependable. For there are many varieties and many qualities of Oriental Rugs—and some of those brought into this country are not at all reliable.

Anatolian and Chinese Rugs are the finest of all the moderately priced, large-sized Orientals. Yet, even of these there are various qualities.

This latest importation of ours is a particularly noteworthy one. Every rug has been carefully selected—every one is of a quality that we know is dependable—every one is a rug we can unqualifiedly guarantee.

Come in and see them. Compare them with other rugs you have seen. Your own comparisons will prove to you that they are most unusual values.

An idea of the moderate figures at which these rugs are marked can be gained from the price of a few of them.

Mother's Day Lends Charm to the Radio

Sadness of Other Times
Happily Missing.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.
Some of us may remember when the Mothers' day programs were said—O, so sad!
A broader, healthier, happier atmosphere prevailed yesterday. We even had some fun—limestone fun that would please any mother.
Dr. F. F. Shannon's sermon at Central church, was deliberately chosen to be heard on this occasion because of the doctor's known ability in infusing rich and noble thoughts into his sermons when dealing with so intimate a subject as Mother's day. This he did beyond expectations. (KTYW.)
The Mother's day concert by the Chicago Lodge of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, at the Harris theater, a W-G-N broadcast, was dignified and somewhat formal, as was to be expected, the musical program was diversified.

The Hawthorne Club Women's chorus (46 voices) gave a Mother's day concert at WQJ, 2 to 4, and there was nothing serious about this either. They were especially good in the softer, quieter passages. Further, they gave us much in color contrast and much of exquisite beauty, for instance, in Beethoven's Minuet.

But it remained for the Apollo Male quartet and Eugene Brooks, a pianist from Indianapolis, a KFW broadcast, to furnish perhaps the finest musical program of the day. As their genial announcer correctly said, "Indianapolis may well be proud of Miss Brooks, and Chicago is mighty proud of the Apollo quartet." We had good reason to be doubly proud of them yesterday. This concert throughout was of great beauty and musical interest. Never had this quartet seemed more musical, more organ, toned, smoother voiced, or more heart searching in effect.

With all due respect, Bishop William F. McDowell's introduction to his sermon before the Sunday Evening club (KTYW) was a scream! He was referring to his famous watch ticking experience of a year or so ago when he laid his watch near the microphone, which many of us must have recalled with amusement.

Some more fun on the 9 to 10 W-G-N concert, ending the day most happily. From 8 to 9:30, silence, 9:35: the Florence Nightingale chorus of the Presbyterian hospital, made up of thirty undergraduate nurses, opening a program of happy compositions in a happy manner. 9:15: Drake concert ensemble announced to play a selection. Silence. Voice: "Hello, hello, Quin! I told Henry to plug in his microphone when he started, and he hasn't done it."

CELEBRATE 66TH ANNIVERSARY OF WEDDING TODAY

One of the oldest married couples in Cook county, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen B. Garrigus of 1018 Ferdinand avenue, Forest Park, today will celebrate the sixty-sixth anniversary of their wedding. They were married at Winona, Ill., and removed to Chicago in 1872. Mr. Garrigus is a veteran of the Civil war, having served in the Fifty-third Illinois Infantry. He is a past commander of Old Glory Post, G. A. R. Mrs. Garrigus has been blind for the last four years. She spends her time knitting.
A son, J. P. Garrigus, lives in New York, and a daughter, Nettie C. Garrigus, lives with the aged couple. There are four grandsons and six great grand daughters.

RADIO PROGRAMS FOR TODAY

(Monday, May 11.)

(Chicago Daylight Saving Time.)

This is silent night in Chicago, but W-G-N, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE station on the Drake hotel, will have three concerts on the air during the day. The Drake concert ensemble and Blackstone String quintet will give their luncheon concert between 12:40 and 2:30 and the dinner concert from 4:30 to 7 o'clock.

The Lyon & Healy artists concert, given every day from 2:30 to 3, will present this week Florence Lang, soprano, and Frederick Schauwecker, pianist, in programs by Chicago composers.

Uncle Walt and Bill and all the animals will read more Patchwork stories written by the children listeners, at 5:30 this evening.
Next Saturday W-G-N is to broadcast the Kentucky derby, direct from the racetrack at Louisville. Al Sabath, steward of the Hawthorne Jockey club, will report the races for W-G-N.

Jack Dempsey, the well known turf expert, is to summarize each race after it is run, and Quin Ryan, W-G-N announcer, will describe the spectacle as he sees it from a couple on top of the grandstand. Four microphones will be located about the track, to give every sound and thrill of the races.

DETAILS OF TODAY'S W-G-N PROGRAM (Wave length 570 meters.)

EUCLID IS RIGHT, EINSTEIN WRONG, CAPT. SEE AVERS

San Francisco, Cal., May 10.—[A. P.]—Capt. T. J. J. See, professor of mathematics and government astronomer at Mare Island, Cal., announced before the California Academy of Sciences today the results of a series of discoveries which, in his opinion, refutes the geometry of Euclid and routes the Einstein theory of relativity.
In summing up his case against relativity, Capt. See enumerated among what he termed its chief errors:
"The confusion of the curvature of space itself, which latter does not exist."
"The unauthorized extension of Gauss' equation for the double curvature of surfaces in space to a manifold of space time in four dimensions—a pure fiction."
"The doctrine of the radius of world curvature, which rests on the fallacy that because a circle on the surface of a sphere returns to itself, therefore space may return to itself."

Wants Men of Character

You men of Character and Intelligence who want a profitable everyday-in-the-year job, with unusually pleasant working conditions, will find that your big opportunity is with Yellow Cab.

You indoor workers—you clerks, salesmen, stenographers, mechanics, shipping clerks, telephone operators—you men from all walks of life—who are subject to lay-offs and annoying restrictions by finicky bosses, this is the place for you.

You college students who want a good outdoor Summer job—you young men who are working your way through school—you can make your expenses and a satisfactory surplus, and keep in fit physical condition, by driving Yellow Cabs.

Your working conditions are ideal. The Master and Man theory and practice do not exist in this institution. True, we have bosses but they all came up from the ranks. They are human beings and they will treat you as a human being.

This is a great big, happy, prosperous family—one contented community—in which everybody helps everybody else—where there are no petty jealousies, envies, back-capping or favoritism. No one can lay you off unless you violate rules or are guilty of bad conduct. No one can interfere with your profits.

You can make as much as you can create in commissions, and you have an interest in 20 per cent of the Company's gross profits. Your doctor, dental, hospital and legal service is free. Did you ever hear of a job like this? Have you ever been told that this is the biggest cooperative institution in this country?

How does your present condition compare?

BUILDING BOOM COVERS STATE, SURVEY SHOWS

Chicago building permits for April totaled $11,000,000 in valuation those issued during April, 1924, it was stated yesterday in a bulletin on general business conditions issued by the Illinois department of labor.

With the building of spring, building construction was resumed and was running at top speed by May 1, according to the bulletin, compiled under direction of Chief Statistician R. D. Cahn.

Repair Work in Progress.
Reports indicate general repair work is in progress, new projects are in the hands of architects, and road construction on a vast scale is under way.

A total of 119 building contractors added one-ninth more employees in April than they had in March. Road building program is indicated by reports from eleven contractors who increased their number of employees by 200 per cent during the month.

Building workers in every section of the state are now, or soon will be fully employed, according to the report.

Surveys the Field.
"Since the first of the year," the bulletin states, "a total of $120,000,000 in building permits were issued in Chicago. Permits are also running high in Aurora, Cicero, Decatur, East St. Louis, Evanston, Highland Park, Oak Park, and Springfield."

An extensive building program reflected favorably upon building materials concerns, the report points out. Brick manufacturers had 7.4 more workers during the month, while the lime and cement industry experienced an employment increase of 12.9 per cent, the glass industry of 6 per cent, and planing mills of 5 per cent.

RACING CURRENT HALTS DIVERS AT NORMAN WRECK

Memphis, Tenn., May 10.—Divers endeavoring to explore the hull of the steamer M. E. Norman, which capsized near Coahoma Landing, Miss., late Friday with a loss of probably twenty-three lives, today were forced to forego their efforts.

The current was found to be too swift, wireless messages said. Work of getting the bodies out of the hull will, until the current subsides, be confined to efforts to tear away enough of the superstructure to permit the current to wash bodies out where they may be recovered, it was said. A derrick boat was anchored over the sunken craft today.

Probability that bodies may be discovered many miles down the river was expressed by river men. Others pointed out that there was a big eddy a short distance from the scene of the sinking and that it was probable that some of the bodies were in this place.

OHIO BOY WINS LEGION'S PRIZE ESSAY CONTEST

Indianapolis, Ind., May 10.—Robert Krumholz of Springfield, O., was announced today as the winner of the American Legion's annual essay contest for American school children. Essays were written on the subject: "Why Communism Is a Menace to Americanism."

Other winners in the 1924 contest were John S. Miller Jr. of Portsmouth, Va., second; and Grace Nichols of Redlandsburg, Cal., third. Prizes were scholarships of $750, $500, and $250 respectively.

Judges of the contest were W. W. Hubbard, commissioner general of immigration; George F. Authier, president of the National Press club, and William Mather Lewis, president of George Washington university.

Upholstered Furniture from Our Own Shops

THIS Davenport is from a new group of upholstered pieces built by hand in our own shops in the real English way. This furniture is characterized by unusually deep springs and down cushions that make it far more luxurious and comfortable than pieces of the usual construction. The fine material and Tobey custom workmanship combine to make this the finest upholstered furniture that can be produced.

John Hancock Chair

This John Hancock chair in mahogany with Chippendale claw feet is one of the best types of wing chair to be had. It is a reproduction of the original. Covered in figured Jacquard, it is $113. In striped denim, as shown, $89.

We have just placed on our floors a group of Tobey made arm chairs that are covered in morocco, Russian calf and goat skin. These chairs are not only very comfortable, but they are strikingly beautiful as well.

May Sale of Curtains and Fabrics

For the spring decorating we have made many attractive price reductions in our large collection of curtains and fabrics. For those who wish to have their curtains made, our curtain workrooms will be of service.

Ruffled curtains with a valance and tie-backs, cretonnes in many new designs and colors, and sunfast materials in many weights and colors of gauze, grenadine and damask are a few of the items in the sale.

A charming bedroom suite in the Louis XVI design. The surfaces are beautifully paneled in walnut and decorated with touches of gold in an ormolu effect. The framework is of gumwood. All of these pieces as listed below can be purchased separately.

SUICIDE REVEALS HERMIT LIFE OF KIN OF PRINCESS

BY JOHN STEELE.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
[Copyright, 1925, by The Chicago Tribune.]
LONDON, May 10.—An official inquest over the body of the Hon. Francis John Lascelles, uncle of Viscount Lascelles and Princess Mary, will take place tomorrow morning. His body was found Saturday in the library of his house at Rome. He had been killed by a shot, which was dropped up between the boards of an extension table. Many hidden facts concerning the life of the deceased, who was closely connected with British royalty, were revealed today.

This is the second time within two years that a mysterious death has cropped up uncomfortably near the royal family. On July 10, 1923, Angus Patrick Bowes-Lyon, first cousin of the Duchess of York, was found shot dead in a limousine near Ripley. Disappointment over a broken love affair was given out as the cause of that tragedy. The verdict was suicide.

Seldom Seen in Village.
The shooting of Mr. Lascelles yesterday offers no such solution. Fifty-four years old, married, the father of a 19-year-old daughter, Francis John Lascelles, half brother of the Earl of Harewood, was a man who lived like a hermit. His neighbors in the little village of Rome say he was almost never seen. It was known that he was suffering from some form of illness of which he never spoke. It is rumored he had long suffered from mental disorders.

A servant girl declared that in all the time she was employed at his home she never knew him to go out of doors. Though he and his family had been living in town eight years, he was virtually a total stranger and few could recognize him if they met him on the street.

Wife and Daughter Away.
Neither his wife nor daughter was in the house when the shooting happened. Another curious fact was that none of the servants heard the shot, despite the fact that they were in the house and both barrels of the double barrel hunting gun were fired. The maid today declared her dead master had not slept in his bed on the night of the killing. The Lascelles family, with the exception of the husband of Princess Mary, is far from wealthy. Viscount Lascelles, a few years before his royal marriage, fell heir to nearly $10,000,000 by the will of Lord Clanricarde, his aged uncle.

Los Angeles Back Home from Porto Rico Journey

Lakehurst, N. J., May 10.—[A. P.]—The navy dirigible Los Angeles returned early today from her pioneer flight to Porto Rico. The lightness of the craft, resulting from fuel consumption, combined with the heavy, damp atmosphere to make the landing more than usually difficult. Twelve attempts to bring the ship earthward failed before the great bag was under control.

HOMING PIGEON WINS HANDICAP RACE WITH PLANE

BRUSSELS, May 10.—[A. P.]—A homing pigeon today won a race between Paris and Brussels against an airplane. The airplane gave the pigeons a three-hour handicap.

Pigeons to the number of 610 were freed at the Le Borget airdrome near Paris at 5 o'clock this morning. Three of them reached Brussels between noon and 12:30 p. m., having negotiated the 275 kilometers (170.88 miles) at an average of 70 kilometers (43.50 miles) an hour.

The airplane took off at the airdrome at 11 a. m. and reached Brussels at 12:30 p. m. The aviator began overtaking some of the straggling pigeons near St. Quentin. He passed many of them on the way to Brussels, but never quite caught up to the three leaders.

ALEX M'DONALD, HAYMARKET RIOT VETERAN, IS DEAD

Alexander McDonald, 14 years old, retired police lieutenant and a veteran of the Haymarket riot, died yesterday at his home, 6246 Niagara avenue, Norwood Park. Lieut. McDonald came to Chicago as a young man and joined the police force in 1884. He was wounded in the Haymarket riot, in which he distinguished himself by his bravery. He retired from the force in 1912. Most of his police career was passed on the west side, where he was attached to the Desplaines street and West Chicago avenue stations. He is survived by a widow, Mrs. Mary Ellen McDonald, and a daughter, Mrs. Anna S. Marker. Burial will be Wednesday in Waldheim cemetery.

TAKE $111 IN POOLROOM HOLDUP.
Three men held up the poolroom of Les Souds, 2901 West 21st street, early last night, took $111 from the cash register, and collected $100 from eight patrons.

FISHIN', HUNTIN', DAWS, AN' GAME STIR CITY FOLKS

Once upon a time a man caught a fish and once upon a time a man brought down a fine fat teal and it was retrieved by his "huntin' daws" and yesterday these two vied for the floor of the third annual National Outdoor Life exposition, which is on for the week at the Coliseum.

It was, "Say, you oughta seen that musky big as a shark and tent" say—"Or, "Boy, there was a huntin' daws for you! Never did see the best of that lit' ole settin', no, sir!" and from that point on it was simply a case of who had the strongest voice and constitution.

Hundreds yesterday got out of their urban atmosphere and into the smell of the open field, forest and stream, the mountain and the range. Men and women were like boys and girls as they watched the wild things, the beaver building his dam, the bear cub gamboling, the porcupine in his treetop habitat, the grizzly and the brown and black bears, the chimpunk, the muskrat and the woodchuck.

PUT YOUR FEET IN OUR HANDS AND YOU WILL BE REWARDED WITH EVERLASTING FOOT COMFORT!

Your Feet Affect Every Nerve and Muscle
In Your Body!

Headaches, irritability and mental depression can often be traced directly to painful or malformed feet, as can also backache and so-called "rheumatism." If you take a little practical care in getting the proper shoes you will find that your foot pains and aches will be immediately and permanently relieved, your nerve system will be strengthened, and the weight of increasing years will hold no terrors for you. Clip the coupon below now! It is worth $5 to you on a pair of Martin Larson's Famous "Sta-Right" Shoes.

LARSON'S Plaster Cast System of Shoe Building

By this system shoes are made by a special plaster paris process. The fact that no two pairs of feet are alike makes the Larson's Plaster Cast System absolutely essential. You know your right foot is different from your left. Shoes made on an average last simply cannot fit, but by this scientific method your shoes are practically made on your feet, for we make exact duplicates of them. Thus you get the shaped shoes nature intended you to wear.

Larson's Sta-Right Shoes

gives instant and lasting relief to sore feet, weak ankles, broken down aches, corns, bunions, callouses, pains in the limbs, and ailments often diagnosed as chronic rheumatism. They are made from a plaster paris cast—$35 and up; to measure, $25 and up.

STYLE AND COMFORT

Style and comfort, smartness and beauty are retained in Martin Larson's Shoes—they only differ in that they are built especially for the peculiarities and defects of your own feet.

GOLF SHOES

that make golf a pleasure—their flexibility and perfect fit bring you to the last green with happy feet. The shoe illustrated has the new crepe rubber flexible sole; its leather is the best and its structure is orthopedically correct. Prices are not excessive.

Riding Boots

made to measure. The large variation in proportionate sizes of feet, calves and leg-lengths make it almost essential that riding boots be built to individual specifications.

Hunting Boots

Wear, service, light weight and comfort are here. (We will be glad to send samples of leather.) In ordering, state for what purpose you wish to use this boot, so that it will be made in the proper weight.

Larson's Sta-Right Arch Protector

Brings quick relief from fallen arches; fits snugly inside stocking—may be worn with any shoe—$10 a pair—with plaster cast, $20.

S. TO MUSTER FOR DEFENSE DAY ONCE EACH YEAR

Washington, D. C., May 10.—[A. P.]—General staff plans for making Defense Day a regular annual event of the nation each year coincident with the day exercises Nov. 11 have been completed and await only White House approval to be put in motion. The project is expected to be presented to the President soon for his approval, with urgent recommendations from the Reserve Officers' association and the National Guard.

Following such approval, details of the plan are not available. It was estimated, however, after a careful study of reports from all corps areas and from National Guard and Reserve officers all over the country.

S. TO MUSTER FOR DEFENSE DAY ONCE EACH YEAR

Washington, D. C., May 10.—(A. P.) General staff plans for making Defense day a regular annual event to be held each year coincident with Armistice day exercises Nov. 11 have been completed and await only White House approval to be put in motion. The project is expected to be presented to the President soon for final approval, with urgent recommendations of the Reserve Officers' association.

try, and is believed to follow closely the recommendations of the Association of Reserve Officers.

Committee is Selected.

During the recent tour of active duty in Washington, attached to the general staff, a group of reserve officers drawn from all nine corps areas, a committee was named to look into the Defense day question and report both to the war department and the association.

The committee report, which urged selection of Armistice day as the proper occasion for the proposed annual muster for the purpose of "taking periodic stock of our national defense," was unanimously approved by the full group and also by the association, which has caused it to be widely distributed among its officer members.

These Handling Affairs.

The special committee was headed by Colonel Harry C. Jones of Baltimore, commanding officer of the 11th Infantry, organized reserve, and included Col. Newbold Morris, New York City, field artillery reserve; Lieut. Col. Stanley J. Eaton, Sioux City, Ia., 350th Infantry, and Lieut. Col. Ralph H. Durkee, San Antonio, Tex., commanding the special troop, 90th division organized reserve.

POLA PUZZLED BY BLACKMAIL STORY OF GIRL

Hollywood, Cal., May 10.—(A. P.) Pola Negri returned to Hollywood today from a vacation trip abroad. She had little to say concerning her differences with New York customs officials over the alleged contents of her trunk and jewelry case.

"That will be all straightened out," she explained, and then that what puzzled her.

Story of Justice Value, who a few days ago asked police here for protection against men she said had used her in a blackmail plot against Miss Negri. The screen star was positive no blackmailers had approached her in recent months.

JOHN D. JR. GIVES $625,000 FOR NEAR EAST COLLEGES

New York, May 10.—(A. P.)—A gift of $625,000 by John D. Rockefeller Jr. toward the $2,500,000 fund being raised for five near eastern colleges, conditioned on the fund's being subscribed before June 30, was announced today by Cleveland H. Dodge, chairman of the movement. Mr. Dodge said that $370,000 remains to be obtained.

The fund is intended to pay the operating expenses for the next five years of Robert College, Constantinople; Woman's college, American University of Beirut; International College of Smyrna; and Sofia American schools.

U. S. TO EXTEND MONEY'S LIFE BY PRINTING MORE

Plan Currency Reserve to Save Wear on Bills.

Washington, D. C., May 10.—[A.P.]—The treasury has made plans for printing more paper money in the next fiscal year than ever has been turned out by the American government in any other twelve months in history.

Orders have been placed for the printing of 200,000,000 sheets of distinctive silk fiber paper, from each sheet of which eight pieces of currency are made.

Beginning July 1, [C. Harris & Ewing] the bureau of engraving and printing will be run at maximum capacity to meet the nation's paper money requirements.

Coincident with announcement of the printing program, Assistant Secretary C. J. Dewey, whose job it is to see that there is plenty of money available in the country, announced that the treasury would take its first step on July 1 toward building up a reserve of currency.

By this method, it is hoped, the life of the paper money may be prolonged.

An opportunity will be had for "curbing" the money before it goes into active service, and this process is expected to keep it from fraying, cracking, and otherwise going to pieces so easily.

The life of the one dollar bill now is only about eight months, whereas treasury experts figure it should be about a year. In pre-war days the average dollar bill would wear about fourteen or fifteen months. Mr. Dewey is convinced that higher prices, use of automobiles, the necessities of commerce and industry, and modern ideas and habits compel the carrying of

NATIONAL PARK CHIEF WELCOMES INQUIRY ON HIS POLICY BY SENATE

Washington, D. C., May 10.—[A.P.]—The proposed investigation of the national park system by the senate public lands committee "is what has been wanted for a long time," Stephen T. Mather, director of the national park service, declared today in a statement. He added that an inquiry would probably put an end to rumors that national playgrounds are in the hands of concessionaires.

"Talk of excessive fees being charged by private operators in the parks," the statement said, "is disproven by the fact that no great is the demand for accommodations in most of them that the park service has required operators to greatly expand their facilities each year."

more money. Thus the silver dollar has fallen into disuse.

The treasury has not been able since the world war to print money fast enough to permit establishment of a reserve. Mr. Dewey said the bills now are printed and placed in circulation within ten days, while tests have proved that they should not pass through the printing stages in less than a month and should be "cured" or "seasoned" two to three weeks longer.

Prof. O'Brien was found by physicians to be suffering from blood poisoning.

Policemen Wound Youth Who Refuses to Halt

One of two youths who tried to escape when accosted by policemen early yesterday morning was wounded and the other was captured. Raymond Kolenda, 19, of Grand Rapids, and Leo Wolkowick, 26, 5113 South May street, were found hiding in the rear of a store at 1410 West 51st street by Lieut. John McCarthy and his squad. As the detectives approached, the men ran and the detectives fired several shots, two striking Kolenda. Wolkowick then surrendered.

FUN, INSTRUCTION AND PROFIT FOR EVERYBODY
Let Everyone Take Part Free

you ARE INVITED TO get in on this interesting and instructive FREE-FOR-ALL contest. Nearly every one has, at some time, felt a keen desire to write attractive and useful advertisements. Here is an opportunity to do so under skilled guidance—and get paid for it, if you succeed.

Help Us Write Chicago Realty History!
You will find this a lot of fun. Much more interesting than forming Cross Word Puzzles. And really worth while. For we are about to write a big chapter in Chicago's marvelous history; you are invited to take a hand. The story—the ad which you are going to write—will be the biggest piece of Real Estate News since World's Fair days.

We will furnish you with all the material from which to build your ad; you have only to put it together. Each being the case, your chances for winning are as good as those of the most expert ad-writer in Chicago.

This "material" will be published serially in our daily changed advertisement in the CHICAGO TRIBUNE for SIX consecutive days beginning tomorrow. Each ad will contain one or more bits of material. You are to put these together. You may patch them together, paste them together, or you may cover the various points (in your ad) in your own language and in your own way.

Now read every word of this and the SIX ads to follow daily. Clip and file each ad for reference. Follow the simple directions. Copies of the full series of these announcements on request.

CONDITIONS
(1) This contest is free and open to every man, woman and child, excepting employees of this firm, their families, and also individuals who are associated with this firm through trade connections.
(2) Contest starts tomorrow and the final closes FRIDAY MAY 20th at 12 o'clock noon, at which hour all submissions must either be in hand in our office, or deposited in the mail.
(3) Entries should be addressed: CONTEST COMMITTEE, Branigar Bros. Co., 9th Floor, Burnham Bldg., 160 N. La Salle St., Chicago, Ill.
(4) Each entry will be time-stamped and filed (unopened) in our office; none shall be opened before Monday, May 25. The 3 Judges shall have ten (10) days time for reaching their decision, and the winner shall be announced in SUNDAY TRIBUNE of June 7.
(5) That ad shall be awarded first prize which in the opinion of the judges is considered to best cover and combine the outstanding features of the property as embodied in the SIX (6) ads (to follow this, on consecutive days in the TRIBUNE) containing the material to be used in our INTRODUCTORY ANNOUNCEMENT in the CHICAGO TRIBUNE, and the other 50 Cash Prizes shall be awarded similarly according to the individual respective merit of the entries submitted. Names and company name in case of a tie, last submission will be awarded the full amount of the prize.
(6) Copies of the CHICAGO TRIBUNE containing the SIX above mentioned advertisements are on file for free inspection of the public on the 9th floor, Tribune Tower, 435 N. How big does the Industrial Market look to you?

MEASURED by the yardstick "volume", the industrial market as a whole staggers the imagination. The figures are so stupendous, they require a rearrangement of the powers of comprehension before one can think in comparable terms.

Measured by the number of potential buyers, the industrial market becomes alluringly small, for 95% of all industry's purchases are made by 115,000 plants. These include everything from the great industrial works to the little shops with a big future. The remaining 5% is widely scattered, of uncertain stability and low potential. They are beyond the border line of profitable selling.

The obvious economy of selling only where sales are profitable, points directly to the need for concentration of sales and advertising on worth-while markets. Market determination and sales analysis loom big as the first steps toward lower cost of distribution.

Scientific selling simply means the study of markets and the intelligent cultivation of those buyers whose purchases are large enough to justify the effort to sell them.

Four principles of Industrial Marketing

As a preliminary to selling, four basic facts should be determined (1) What are the worth while markets (2) What are the buying habits of these markets (3) What is the most direct approach to them (4) What appeals will have the greatest influence on their buying.

The Industrial Market at a glance

Group	Units	Purchases
Mines and Quarries	11,400	$1,000,000,000
Public Utilities	26,680	4,000,000,000
Power Plants (over 250 H.P.)	16,000	Included in other groups
Construction	7,500	2,500,000,000
Class
Manufacturing	A	B
Process Industries	7069	6285	12,700,000,000
Mechanical Industries	7981	5213	5,900,000,000
Textile Industries	5544	4847	4,500,000,000
Lumber Industries	3531	3546	1,200,000,000
Miscellaneous	4717	5488	3,700,000,000
Class A (50 or more workers)
Class B (21 to 49 workers)
Total	115,801		$35,500,000,000

The above changes somewhat from year to year due to growth, mergers, etc.

The classification of industrial markets is not difficult. Industry's needs are known and buying habits are well established.

Any manufacturer selling to industry can segregate his prospects with certainty. He can reach them directly and with a definite knowledge of what appeals influence their buying. Information which will aid him to do this is available through the McGraw-Hill Company.

Numbered among the manufacturers who are following these principles of scientific selling and advertising are many of America's Industrial Leaders. Among them, also, are numerous smaller manufacturers whose real success started when they changed from promiscuous selling to concentrated effort.

A service of unique value

The McGraw-Hill Company has been of definite assistance to many of these manufacturers. They were able to bring to the consideration of plans a fifty years' knowledge of industry, unique and unmatched.

Other manufacturers who desire to fit their sales and advertising plans to present-day needs and opportunities, are invited to counsel with the McGraw-Hill Company.

GIRL BABIES FAR HEALTHIER THAN BOYS, U. S. FINDS

87,000 Infants Under 1 Die Annually.

Washington, D. C., May 10.—A one-fourth higher death rate among girl babies than boys before the first year of age was reported by the children's bureau today as one of the facts established in the most comprehensive study of infant mortality it has yet made in furtherance of its efforts to reduce the rate in the United States. The variation in the sexes was said to be explainable only by a difference in natural vitality.

The health records within their first year of 23,000 babies in eight cities that studied as a basis for the report, which cited that most recent statistics indicate that 157,000 infants under one year of age in this country annually and that 23,000 of these fail to survive the first year. The cities in which the studies were conducted were Johnstown, Pa.; Manchester, N. H.; Brockton, Mass.; Saginaw, Mich.; New Bedford, Mass.; Watertown, Conn.; Akron, Ohio, and Baltimore, Md.

Lessons from Analysis.
In an analysis of the data obtained, Dr. Robert M. Woodbury, former director of statistical research for the bureau, said it emphasized that of-forts to reduce the infant mortality rate must be directed equally to prevention of specific infectious diseases, to proper feeding for reduction of gastric and intestinal diseases, and to counteraction of prenatal and natal causes.

The latter causes, with the mother's health a controlling factor, were said to have accounted for 24.1 per cent of the deaths in the cases studied, with gastric and intestinal diseases causing 13.4 per cent; respiratory diseases 19.1 per cent and epidemic and other communicable diseases 1.1 per cent. Seasonal conditions were shown to have caused a variation in the rates from the different causes, with August showing the maximum mortality from gastric and intestinal diseases, and January the minimum.

Breast Fed Are Healthier.

Other deductions from the study were that the mortality among exclusively artificially fed babies was three or four times greater than among the exclusively breast fed; that first born children have a slightly higher mortality than second born; and that the mother's age did not have any marked influence on the rate except in the case of the first born.

In the racial classification, Jewish babies were shown to be the healthiest. The order of increase in the death rate was given as "native white, German, Italian, colored, Polish, French-Canadian, and Portuguese."

Chicago Drainage Foes to Map Diversion Fight

Cleveland, O., May 10.—Forces opposing the Chicago Drainage canal project will meet here Wednesday for final plans to secure more drastic regulations governing Chicago's diversion of water. The Lake Carriers' association, Great Harbors association, chambers of commerce, cities, and attorneys general of six states bordering on the great lakes, will be represented.

SANITARY BOARD PLANS FRIENDLY APPEAL FOR BILL

Diplomacy is to be the Sanitary district's method in seeking repeal of the needed bond issuance authority, Trustee James M. Whalen said yesterday. The trustees have decided upon a friendly approach to the governor and the legislature in urging that the bill be passed over the veto.

Unless the legislation giving the district an additional $10,000,000 yearly for construction of sewage disposal plants is granted, Chicago faces disease and disaster, Trustee Whalen explained. The war department would then revoke its permit allowing the city to take the necessary quantity of lake water per second for sanitary purposes.

Whatever belligerency there was among the trustees has subsided, it was said, and instead of blaming Gov. Small they have agreed to conciliate him and appeal to him not to be hostile toward Chicago's great need. The Better Government association, which influenced Gov. Small to veto the bond measures, has sent a letter to every member of the legislature asking that, if the measure is passed over the veto, safeguards be put upon the spending of the money.

Are Impressive.

Washington, D. C., May 10.—[Special.]—Members of the diplomatic corps, and foreign delegates and guests attending the seventh quinquennial convention of the International Council of Women joined the hosts of Americans who went out to Arlington today to honor our dead in the Mothers' day ceremonies at the tomb of the unknown soldier.

MRS. H. H. MOORE.

Fearing to give offense to some American or allied mother, the German delegates did not attend the service at Arlington, but did attend the service held in the churches this morning, to pray, they said, "that never again may such trouble come upon the world and the hearts of the mothers be broken as they were during these terrible years."

Schumann-Helk Sings.

With Maj. Gen. George Barnett, U. S. M. C., acting as temporary chairman, Col. Dwight F. Davis, acting secretary of war, delivering the principal address, the army, navy and marine bands in attendance, and Mme. Schumann-Helk as soloist, the ceremonies were not only the tribute of the mothers of the country, but the tribute of the nation to its mothers and its sons.

"On this day, all over this great country, our soldiers are paying tribute to the mothers of America," said Col. Davis. "In every army post equal ceremonies are being held at which the mothers of soldiers are the honored guests. No more appropriate a significant day could have been chosen by the war mothers for this particular pilgrimage to the tomb of the unknown soldier."

Altar of Patriotism.

"This is not the tomb, but the altar of patriotism. Our heads are bowed, not in sorrow but in reverence. We come, not as mourners, but as disciples. The unknown who lives here in the spirit of America. He left behind no creed, no message, not even a single word. He is our inspiration, not by his words, but by his deeds."

"In this he may well be an example to us all. You mothers sent your sons to war with smiling lips, but aching hearts, proud of their courage, patriotism and loyalty. You gold star mothers do not talk about your loss; your sorrow is deep in your hearts, mingled with a great and abounding pride in the everlasting glory which belongs to your boy. Your sons did not talk about fighting for civilization and humanity—they did it. They and their unknown comrades were not soldiers, nor were you. America can always count on the mothers of America."

Lady Aberdeen Speaks.

Speaking for the International Council of Women, Lady Aberdeen expressed the thanks of the delegates for being permitted to join in this beautiful service in these beautiful surroundings, which we shall never forget."

At the conclusion of the service in the amphitheater wreaths were placed on the tomb of the unknown soldier by Acting Secretary of War Davis for the army, navy and marine corps; by Mme. Schumann-Helk, whose sons are among the unknown dead, for the American war mothers; by Lady Aberdeen and Mrs. Philip North Moore for the delegates to the quinquennial and by representatives of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the American Legion auxiliary and the Disabled American Veterans of the World War, and at the last by delegates of the foreign nations represented at the quinquennial, led by the council of Great Britain and France.

Planes Drop Caramels.

While the service was in progress aeroplanes were flying low overhead dropping caramels on the graves of the world war dead on the hillside near the amphitheater.

The French ambassador and Mme. Daeschner, Mr. Henry Getty Chilton, counselor of the British embassy, the Greek minister and Mme. Stimpoulou and other members of the diplomatic corps occupied boxes with the delegates of their respective countries and after the service took part in the ceremonies at the tomb.

Girl Who Puts Her Past Behind Her Is Not Cheating

BY DORIS BLAKE

"What can life mean to the girl who has loved not wisely but too well, as the old saying goes," asks F. E. "I mean the girl whose dreams and hopes are shattered by a man who did not keep faith with her. The girl who, at the same time, has forfeited her self-respect by too much faith in the fidelity of man. She has a double burden to bear, and yet you advise her never to hold any hope out to her. According to you, she is done for."

"There are probably a good many such girls in the country. Their disgrace is known to none but themselves and the man responsible for it, but they are under the shadow of it, nevertheless. Certainly they often wonder if they don't deserve the good things life holds for other girls—a loyal husband, a happy home, and children. And the bitter condemnation of a self-righteous people goes on others who have not escaped so fortunately as these doubtful girls make them decide against cheating a good man. The girls are invariably young when the mistake is made, for only the young ones would have utter faith in any man."

"What about it, Doris Blake? Are you cheating when we expect the good things, if we have learned our lesson and know we are capable of being a model citizen if that is our right?"

"Surely you cannot say, F. E., that we advisers are so bereft of human sympathy and tolerance as that! Let us hope the lesson taught us by the Great Adviser has sunk a little deeper than to condemn for life, when He simply told Magdalene to go and sin no more."

The tragedy of the girl who has loved unwisely is not in the bitter condemnation of a self-righteous people, as you say, but in the loss of self-respect she suffers. It is in rebuilding this respect that the chief difficulty lies. It can be done; it has been done in thousands of cases, and the good things of life have been earned as a consequence. No one is cheating who puts a mistake behind him and resolves to build anew. The way, to be sure, is easier for one who has not suffered the shattering of dreams and hopes, who has not lost faith in herself. That is why we advisers try to caution the girl in time to save her from the troubled state of mind your letter reflects. Success in life, as measured in terms of happiness, is largely a matter of a clear conscience and the dreams and faith that go with it.

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

Judge by Actions.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am a girl of 17 and in love with a young man six months my senior. Every time he passes he wants to come over, but his friends don't allow him to. When I speak to him he always tells me he loves me, but goes out with another girl just to spend time. Kindly advise me how I can find out if he really cares for me. BROWN EYES.

If he were anxious to come over to where you were, dear, I feel sure he would find it possible to break away from his friends. Telling in this, I shouldn't put too much reliance in what he says. It is by actions that we judge, you know, Brown Eyes.

How to Know.

"Dear Miss Blake: Will you be kind enough to tell me how to win a boy I am fond of? He seems to like me and he also told my girl friend the same, but he does not act as though he does. How am I to know? He has never showed any sign of jealousy. ANXIOUS.

Jealousy is not a sign of friendship. Anxious, but rather shows the jealous one lacks faith in you. If he is attentive to you and seems to get pleasure out of being with you, then you have every right to feel he cares for you. Encourage him by showing you are interested in him and what he is doing, dear.

HAROLD TEEN—TOBACCO SMOKES BETTER

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Garden Asparagus.

Because the early market asparagus requires even more careful cooking than that fresh from the garden the best recipe for cooking asparagus was printed in this column on March 28. Evidently "An Old Bachelor" did not see that, because on April 22 he wrote, "Now is the time to tell us how to cook asparagus properly. Most of us do not know whether to put it in cold water or hot water or whether to salt it when it is first put on the fire or not. Cooking fresh vegetables like asparagus, beans, peas, etc., is an unknown art in most kitchens."

And when this article gets into print the old bachelor may have got tired of looking for the recipe, not realizing that my articles are for good and sufficient reasons prepared sometime in advance of their appearance, but at this date garden asparagus in many places will be at its best, and market asparagus at its lowest in price, so here is excuse for a repetition of what I think is absolutely the best and most reasonable way of preparing asparagus.

Trim, wash and drain asparagus. Pour boiling water over it, let it stand three or four minutes, then dip asparagus into the coldest water at command. If about one-third of the stems end of the asparagus are cut off they will usually be of the right length to cook by dry steam in the top of a double boiler, the top part of which holds two and a half quarts when even full. Gather up the asparagus in a bunch, set them in the top of the double boiler, set this into lower part containing boiling water, cover, and let steam for three-quarters of an hour, finish with butter and salt.

Asparagus cooked thus will be a brilliant green, sweet and crisp. It will be a darker green, not so sweet and not so crisp, if cooked quickly in just water to cover, added boiling, and cooked away.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

A. L. M.: IF YOU ARE TRYING TO keep down your weight, lamb chops and beef would be better for you than ham and pork chops. One medium sized pork chop contains 170 calories, whereas a lamb chop has only one hundred. A medium sized veal cutlet has about one hundred calories. I have in printed form the calorie values of the different kinds of meat, which you may have for a stamped, addressed envelope.

BERTHA: THE DARK RINGS under your eyes are undoubtedly due to loss of sleep. You should get eight hours sleep each night, in a well ventilated room. You must arrange to go to bed earlier.

M. L. J.: YOU MAY SUPPLY THE system with sufficient iron by means of your diet. Eat spinach, beans, cabbage, celery, tomatoes, carrots, beets, turnips, potatoes, onions, raisins, figs, prunes, whole wheat bread, and some meat, milk and eggs.

Teeth and Health Closely Related, Say Most Doctors

by Dr. J. B. Jones

Inquiring writes to know if teeth have any relation to health. She had not been feeling well, so she took to a daily walk, but it did not improve her appetite. She wonders if the fact that she can't chew her food well may have something to do with the way she feels.

Doctors certainly believe teeth and health are closely knit together. If you have a pain anywhere from your throat to your toes they chase you off to have your teeth examined. They even go higher than the throat. A woman was having trouble with her eyes, and her doctor found she needed dental attention. And, sure enough the eye trouble stopped after the necessary dental work was done.

Certainly proper mastication is necessary to a good digestion, and a good dental apparatus is necessary to chew with. Without sound teeth, well placed in the dental arch, and support by healthy foundation tissues, the mouth will be handicapped in performing a most vital function.

Irregular teeth, sore teeth, unfilled or improperly filled teeth, vacant spaces resulting from decay or extractions, inadequate substitutes for loose teeth, or sore and bleeding gums, all interfere in some degree with mastication of food and, as a consequence, to health.

Coarse foods and hard foods which demand mastication are essential to the general well being of the teeth and their foundation structures. Such foods help to keep the teeth polished and clean and their supporting tissues properly exercised.

While inquiring's daily walk is good for her, it cannot be expected to right her troubles until she has had her teeth gone over and the necessary attention administered.

NEW INDUSTRIES

SOCIAL PROGRESS

BY SCRUTATOR

The time is ripe for some one to prepare an authoritative new capitalism is creating a community of interest among the multiplication of their wants. infections.

Data for this study are certain.

Every new industry, every version based on an invention a new army of "fans" for this. New social groups have sprung every new industry.

elieves about consuming interests even about sports—not about its creative roles of men.

These new group interests have ties that cross and interlace the fates of men as producers.

The earlier economists, eagerly illustrating the importance of this of labor in production, emphasized interests of producing groups. As they labored to show that these interests were really reconciled common interests of all as consumers.

No doubt that the theory of struggle springs from their studies of the division of labor and the function of capitalists and workers.

Most of the fallacious economic and political thinking of our time traces to an exaggerated idea of the importance of the groupings of men according to their industrial functions and activities. The assumption that men are motivated by their productive function, and that their jobs are basic with respect to their social position, is a fundamentalist, the syndicalist, the agrarian, the plutocrat, and what not.

They have paid scant attention to the influence of the new groupings which are arising so rapidly.

The automobile has created government that has paved thousands of miles and altered the fiscal status of the country.

The bricklayer and contractor, who have developed a class consciousness, have developed a class consciousness.

Take the traction employe. The nature of his job has an interest in heavy taxation upon the industry and its rigid limitation of transportation agency. After war, as the owner of a silver, another interest in excise taxes and the burden of street parking on a strike and operating a jitney develops another interest. And so on and on. Every day the industry is creating new groups

RUBBER SHARES LONDON FEATURE FOR LAST WEEK

BY JOHN STEELE

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service)

(Copyright: 1935: By The Chicago Tribune)

LONDON, May 10.—Outside of causing endless discussion, Winston Churchill's budget has had little actual effect on the market so far.

Four weeks prior to the budget anouncement, while trading disclosed down, the city blamed the slippage tendency on public anxiety over the nation's financial schedule. Now that the schedule is known, the market continues along at exactly the same slow pace as before.

Though both are subjects of volume of talk and columns of print, the gold basis and budget questions are not making stocks move to any considerable degree

one way or another.

Rubber Shares Are Feature.

The market feature this week was rubber, which enjoyed a healthy spurt on the rise of commodity prices, and mining shares, which were sent aloft on two reasons—the first being a sudden demand from Paris investors and the second being the continued prosperity of the South African platinum prospectors.

With sterling's rapid return to parity, conservative investors seeking gilt edged securities again are beginning to turn loosely to British government bonds, which are bound to return to solid foundations as the national debts are reduced and the money exchange straightens out.

The conversion of 3½ per cent loans promises to have early popularity, since the funds on hand insure the payment of recent new issues.

Effects of Leverhulme Death.

The death of Lord Leverhulme—the famous soap baronet—had an immediate effect on the big concerns he controlled.

It is widely known that he always had been a great personal factor in the management of all concerns wherein he was associated, so it is no more than natural that there should be some depression at his death.

Towards the end of the week rubber prices went up 3 shillings on the pound, bringing inevitable excitement on the rubber market. Dividends on all leading rubbers are fully expected to reach a

notwithstanding the somewhat restricted output.

British railroad shares continue to lose favor on the market, dropping further and further down the grade as the result of gloomier labor relations and depressing traffic outlook.

Oil Stocks Are Dull.

The British oil market refused to follow the high lead set by New York and oil here remained sluggish throughout the week.

The industrial division experienced an up and down tendency, textiles—silk being all being responsible for most of the irregularity. The new budget's tax on artificial silk was responsible for a good deal of panic and fluctuation in such stocks as Courtauld, when the proposition of the tax rose as a probability and then sank before the public protest, ending still wrapped in doubt.

Detroit Ry. and Harbor Terminals.

W. O. M. Marquette, Mich.—The Detroit

Railway and Harbor Terminals company has constructed an eight story warehouse with 900,000 square feet of floor space on its property in Detroit, Mich.

The land consists of twelve acres with

1,100 feet on the harbor front and on Jefferson avenue. The property has access to all railroads in Detroit. The company is issuing $2,750,000 first mortgage 6½ per cent bonds secured by a closed first mortgage on its entire property. The land is appraised at $2,552,000 and the buildings at $4,530,000, making a total appraised value of $7,082,000, or over twice the amount of the bonds. After operating expenses, repairs, and maintenance the balance of earnings available for fixed charges are estimated at $1,277,- $11 per annum. This is over 5 times the annual interest requirements of $245,750

on these bonds. These bonds are followed by $1,750,000 ten year 7 per cent debentures.

$1,530,000 outstanding 7 per cent

cumulative preferred stock, and 171,300 shares of common stock of no par value.

The first mortgage bonds are a suitable investment for a business man's funds.

RECEIVERS FOR WILSON & CO. TO ASK FOR CLAIMS

The first step toward terminating the receivership of Wilson & Co., packers, will be taken today. The receivers will call on all persons, firms, associations, and corporations, with certain exceptions, having any claim or demand against the company to file on or before June 15 written proofs of their claims with counsel for the receivers.

Those exempted from this call include holders of the first mortgage bonds and certain others. All claims and demands which shall not be proved and all holders of such claims shall be barred from all right to share in the distribution of any money, properties, or assets now or hereafter forming a part of the receivership estate.

The committee representing the holders of the convertible bonds has announced that holders of such bonds, deposited before June 2, need not take any action to prove their claims on such bonds.

The committee will cause proofs of claim to be filed. The committee representing the bank debt and commercial paper has issued a similar statement concerning the filing of proofs of claims in respect to the indebtedness which it represents.

SHIP FIRMS TELL COOLIDGE HOW TO SELL U. S. FLEET

New York, May 10.—[A. P.]—Recommendations to make possible the sale of the government-owned fleet and its successful operation by American companies laid before President Coolidge by the American Steamship Owners' association, the Shipowners' Association of the Pacific, and the Pacific

American Steamship company, were made public today.

They urge creation of two special agencies to determine the extent of service to be carried on and the amount of direct national aid through mail pay and other compensation. Included in these organizations are almost all owners of ocean going tonnage

under the American flag.

Ask Reorganization of Board.

The program favors reduction of the shipping board from seven members to three and continuance in some form of the fleet corporation under control of the secretary of commerce or a secretary of marine, to supervise operation of the essential steamship services pending liquidation.

Other recommendations include exension of the coastwise laws to the Philippines when the President deems it expedient; exemption of coast trade from Panama canal tolls; freedom of ships to transfer to foreign registry except in national emergency; reduction in Panama canal tolls; extension of the present construction loan fund with the stipulation that vessels so benefited must remain in foreign trade until loans are repaid.

Formulate Cargo Rules.

The government is asked to relinquish to privately owned American ships cargoes of supplies and troops in time of peace and to convey all government officials and employees and all government cargoes in such vessels.

The secretary of commerce, the postmaster general, the secretary of the navy, the director of the budget, and one or two other American citizens experienced in shipping would constitute one of the agencies recommended. To the second of these agencies the chairman of the shipping board would be added.

With these aids the sale of fit government ships to private owners would be assured, the associations contend.

They recommend that laid up ships,

for which the government has no present need prospective use, be sold for scrapping, and that the better vessels be preserved until they can be sold to American citizens.

PRICE OF WHEAT SHOWS EFFECT OF CROP REPORTS

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

The government and private crop reports on wheat have not been out of the news, and the traders now are working on the weather conditions, and the milling and export demand to govern speculative operations in wheat. There has been a broadening in operation and prices have moved up 20¢ to 25¢ in two weeks, the May leading.

This was a good advance, considering the recent heavy liquidation and decline. The change was due to development of authority by the big cash interests and to buying based on a belief that the winter wheat crop will be short.

The government report of 445,000,000 bu. was in line with the private estimates, which put out by a New York commercial paper, which was so radically out of line that it seems incredible that it should place such confidence in it. It received credence, however, from the fact that its April estimate was the nearest to the government's of all private reports, while this month's estimate was the nearest.

Present Prices Debatable.

Prices are a level at which one element in the trade believes that bullish conditions have been discounted for the present, with July wheat about $1.50 and September around $1.45. Some interest in these values for a new crop report, good prices for farmers. Others take a different view of values and believe that they should be materially higher.

The government report on winter wheat is seasonal when analyzed, being 23,000,000 bu. less than the April showing, which was the lowest price of 1917. It is 100,000,000 bu. less than indicated in May last year and 145,000,000 bu. short of the 1918 harvest.

Of late there has been a reduction of around 12,000,000 bu. or more in the visible supply in the face of a slow cash demand. Friends of the long side of corn say, with a better demand for which they believe is in sight, they look for a more rapid reduction.

The market is stubborn. Of late it has not been broken for the bears. The short interest has decreased on the advance of over 12¢ in two weeks, which is regarded as enough for the time being unless there is a broadening of the trade.

Lending holders of May corn are taking the cash grain on delivery and shorts are uneasy. But with May at a discount under July there is nothing to get excited over for the moment, and that the open interest is not such as to cause uneasiness amongst the government officials who watch the markets.

May corn closed on Saturday at $1.14 1/2, up 1/4¢; for the week, July $1.14 1/2, up 1/4¢; September $1.14 1/2, up 1/4¢; December $1.14 1/2, up 1/4¢.

There is the lightest movement of corn for this time of the year in five years or more.

Of late there has been a reduction of around 12,000,000 bu. or more in the visible supply in the face of a slow cash demand. Friends of the long side of corn say, with a better demand for which they believe is in sight, they look for a more rapid reduction.

The market is stubborn. Of late it has not been broken for the bears. The short interest has decreased on the advance of over 12¢ in two weeks, which is regarded as enough for the time being unless there is a broadening of the trade.

Lending holders of May corn are taking the cash grain on delivery and shorts are uneasy. But with May at a discount under July there is nothing to get excited over for the moment, and that the open interest is not such as to cause uneasiness amongst the government officials who watch the markets.

not weather until harvest to make a material enlargement in present crop estimates. In 1914, when there was a loss of 12,437,000 acres, or 21 per cent, there was an improvement of around 20,000,000 bu. between the estimates early in the season and the harvest, as conditions were perfect. This year's loss of acreage of 8,854,000 was 22.5 per cent, the second largest on record.

In 1917 there were 40,000,000 acres remaining for harvest, as compared with 32,814,000 this year. Were the winter wheat crop to improve with an aggregate harvest of 200,000,000 bu., which hardly seems possible, it would require a harvest of 200,000,000 bu. of spring wheat to make 800,000,000 bu. of all wheat, which would be 72,000,000 bu. short of last year.

All indications are that the carryover this year in the United States will be less than last year's and that the world's carryover will also be materially under last year's.

With stocks decreasing steadily, indications are that the world's wheat position, eventually, will work out close to predictions made earlier in the season by a few trade leaders. This small carryover, with any reduction in crop prospects, would be the basis for increased speculative buying here and elsewhere, with larger buying from abroad. There has been a clean-up of a large part of the floating cargoes and reduced selling pressure in foreign markets. Today's statistics are expected to be bullish.

Betty Louise O'Hara Wins Baby Show's Grand Prize—Hunt Chicago Gunmen for Indiana Murder

BEST BABY BOY. Lack of vaccination kept George Emmett Witchek, 20 months old, of 3818 North Central Park avenue, from winning the grand prize of $500. (Story on page 1.)

VICTIM OF AUTO. Miss Lucy L. Wilson, widely known teacher of McKinley High school, is killed. (Story on page 1.)

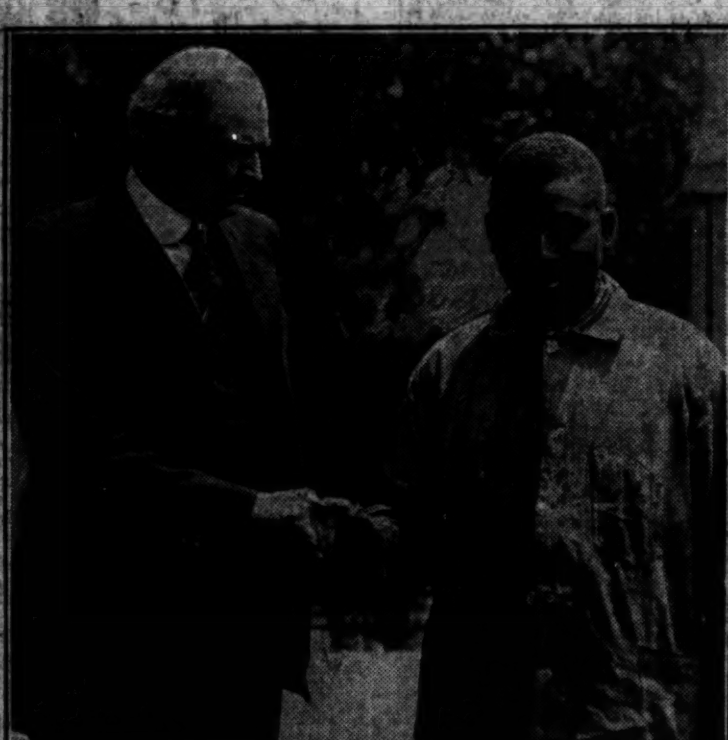

Kentucky Derby Candidates

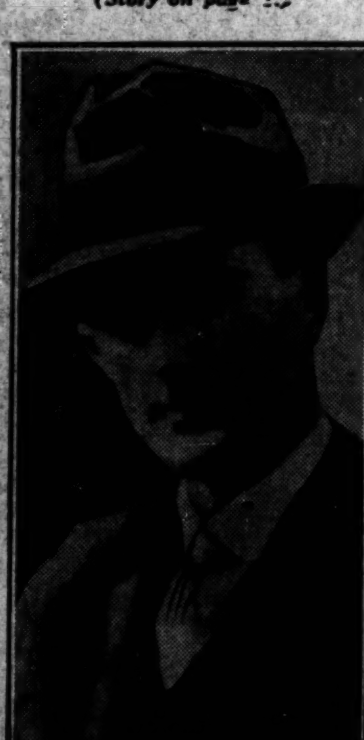

One of the Derby entries with a host of backers is Lee O. Cotner. He is a brown colt, owned by R. W. Collins. His sire was Last Coin or Hi Time. (Story on page 24.)

WONDERFUL TWINS. Mrs. William E. Dever, wife of the mayor, with Elsie Agnes and Ethel Marie Skarda, 11 months old, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Skarda, 5045 Talman avenue. They won first prize for twins. (Story on page 1.)

HONOR HEROIC COLORED BOATMAN. Mayor Rowlette Paine of Memphis, Tenn., congratulates Tom Lee, who saved thirty lives when the M. E. Norman sank in Mississippi. (Story on page 11.)

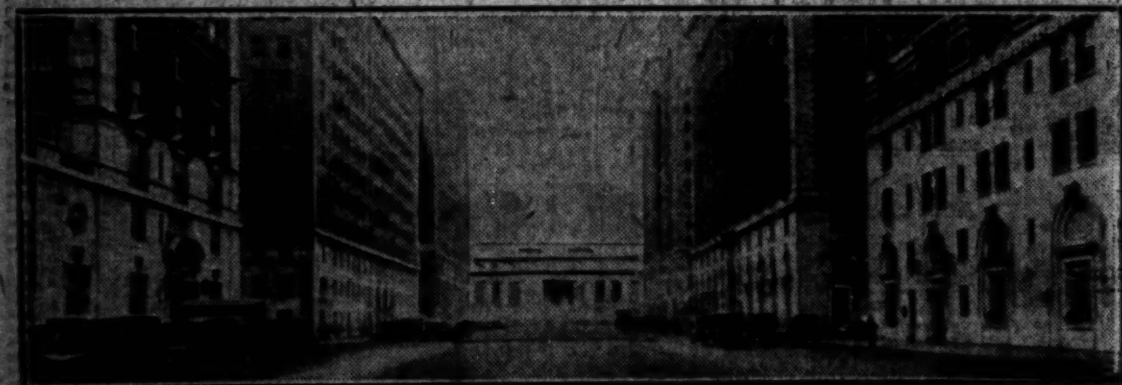

MURDERED. Body of Frank Cochran is found on highway near Crown Point. (Story on page 1.)

AND AFTER ELECTRIFICATION. The air rights of the railroad yard have been utilized and one of the finest districts in New York created.

RIVER BOAT WHICH CAPSIZED, DROWNING TWENTY-THREE PERSONS. This is one of the few pictures ever taken of the Mississippi river steamboat, M. E. Norman. The boat sank near Columbia Landing, Miss., while carrying a party of engineers on an excursion trip. (Story on page 11.)

MOTHERS OF HEROES REMEMBER THEIR DEAD. Gold Star Mothers visited Rainbow park yesterday (it's at 75th street and the lake) and upon the trees placed metal plates bearing the names of their sons who died in the war. (Story on page 31.)

Jockey R. Zucchin is shown up on Son of John, a brown colt, owned by B. W. Scott. The colt's sire was Sir John Johnson and his dam was Water K.

DEVER CLASHES
WITH UTILITIES
ON BARR BILL

Ten Mayors Demand
Home Rule.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The mayors of ten cities returned yesterday, with more vigor and arguments, their opposition to the Barr bill which would allow all public utilities in Illinois to obtain "terminal permits" from the state commission. The protests were made in a state senate subcommittee session in the city hall, where Corporation Counsel Busch presented amendments to the public utility act which would confer home rule upon municipalities. The objections to the Barr bill were voiced by Mayor Dever of Chicago, Mayor Elmer R. Elder of Decatur, Mayor James H. Andrews of Kewanee, Commissioner Willis J. Spaulding of Springfield, Mayor J. H. Hallstrom of Rockford, Mayor Earl R. Kelly of Plainfield, Commissioner Harry B. Rasmussen of Champaign, City Attorney F. C. V. Miller of Paris, Attorney E. F. LaVerdy of Wilmette, and Corporation Counsel R. V. Gustin of East St. Louis. They pleaded they represented the people of their respective communities and that the Barr bill would take away the last vestige of home rule.

Power Interests Represented. On the other side was Henry L. Green, of Urbana, an attorney representing the Illinois Electrical Association, the Electric Street Railway Association, and the Illinois Gas Association. He claimed he represented public interest. He denied that and emphatically said that the Barr bill would take away power which the cities now have. He successfully refuted that statement, although each opposing speaker indicated clearly that he did not believe it.

Mr. Green is the first advocate of the Barr bill to make a public statement on the subject before the senate committee. "The object of this bill," he said, "is to make a legal declaration of policy by the state of Illinois on the rights of utilities to operate. Its effect would be to permit a utility to obtain money for improvements and extensions at a reasonable interest rate. The permit is terminable when the utility does not meet its obligations."

Split in Opposition. The expressions of the opposition mayors showed they are unanimous only on policy, the defect of the Barr bill. Otherwise their views differ. As a private citizen, Corporation Counsel Busch presented rough draft of bills which would restore complete municipal rule over public utilities and also grant them the power to issue "terminal permits."

Mayor Dever said that that was all that Chicago should have. "A terminable permit law should have a provision for a referendum to be held for one added need. Then the city should have the financial power to buy as well as its present power to lease. That would require a constitutional amendment."

The nature of this bill, the mayor explained to the state senators, though there were two versions of what the mayor had in mind. Dever did not mention the amendments he would propose and submit. He would propose and submit amendments he has in mind.

Green and Mayor Clash. When the amendments which J. Busch has prepared are ineffective against what you desire," suggested Senator Dalley. "In that case, it would be to consider them, is it not?" "No, no," responded the mayor. "They have some good points which would confer authority that we need. Who is asking this bill, except the state?" queried Mayor Dever.

We have told you explicitly what we want the bill and their reasons for opposing it," replied Attorney Green. "Who is opposing the bill, except the state?" "That discussion has nothing to do with the merits or demerits of the proposed Senator Dalley. That is the waters. Let us proceed in orderly way."
